

Count On Me

© Will Stanley 2018

Please count on me, when you think life's out to get you
Count on me when you're feeling down and blue
It's not true that no one cares
Just turn around, you'll see me standing there
And no matter what you need, you can count on me.

You've bounced around from one guy to the next
Always looking for the one who'll treat you best
But despite all your searching
And degrading body surfing
The answer is a guy with one request.

Please count on me, when you think life's out to get you
Count on me when you're feeling down and blue
It's not true that no one cares
Just turn around, you'll see me standing there
And no matter what you need, you can count on me.

I know that guys have done you wrong in the past
But this one wants a deep love that will last
And the best way to achieve it
Is to practice and believe it
And he hopes you'll consider what he's asked.

Please count on me, when you think life's out to get you
Count on me when you're feeling down and blue
I can show you that I care
Just turn around, you'll see me standing there
And no matter what you need, you can count on me.

Give me a sign and I'll be at your door
I promise I won't ask for annoying favors any more.

Instrumental verse

Please count on me, when you think life's out to get you
Count on me when you're feeling down and blue
It's not true that no one cares
Just turn around, you'll see me standing there
And no matter what you need, you can count on me.
