

Crystalline Dream

© 2004 Will Stanley

I'm in a crystalline dream
Surrounding swirls of silver have an alabaster sheen
Rubies and emeralds sparkle on the ground
And the air as I breathe hums a sound.

I'm in a champagne-like daze
Bubbles popping all around me in an incandescent haze
Olives and cherries both taste like fresh whipped cream
Cuz I'm deep inside a crystalline dream.

Now that I've found true love
My life has changed
And nothing on earth seems the same
A walk down the street turns into a reverie
As my mind comes to grips with your love for me.

And that's why I constantly dream
Reality has been replaced by a psychedelic scene
Don't worry about me, I'm not high on ecstasy
I'm just lost inside a crystalline dream.

I had given up on the possibility
Of love ever happening to me
Then you came along and suddenly it seemed
That a life with you would lead me to a crystalline theme.

And now I constantly dream
Reality has been replaced by a psychedelic scene
Don't worry about me, I'm not high on ecstasy
I'm just lost inside a crystalline dream.
Here with you inside my crystalline dream.
