

Friendship Into True Love (We Repurposed)

© 2014 Will Stanley

We've been best friends since second grade
We always said our friendship would never fade
But who'd have guessed the games we'd eventually play.

When we were kids, it was a marbles and jacks
And step on a crack, break your momma's back
You helped me with my reading, I helped you with math.

Slowly but surely, our feelings deepened and grew
As we hit puberty, suddenly we knew

Hormones gave us a definite shove
We found we fit together like hand in glove
We repurposed friendship into true love.

Instrumental
We repurposed friendship into true love

We're still a couple of kids, arm in arm,
Only now when we kiss, we hear a fire alarm.

There's nothing better than one of our hugs
Our bodies touching, all nice and snug
We repurposed friendship into true love

Maybe someday we'll have, several kids of our own
And we hope that they'll enjoy, this kind of love when they're grown.

I spend my time gazing into your eyes
You say we're lucky we both realized
The value of turning friendship into true love
So we repurposed friendship into true love.
Yes, into true love.
