

I Don't Think I Can Love You Anymore

© 2004 Will Stanley

It's time we talked, so please listen till I'm through
I don't know how I'm going to say, what I've got to say to you
Your eyes are filled with doubt (I see you start to pout)
So I'll just blurt it out
I don't think I can love you anymore

There was no event...no single point in time
As life marched on, our love began, a long and slow decline
Where once we kissed goodnight
Now we just turned off the light
And I don't think I can love you anymore.

I don't think I can love you anymore
It won't be long and I'll be heading out that door
I haven't met another, I don't need a better lover,
It's just I don't think I can love you anymore.

We had downs and ups, and raised three amazing kids
Our friends all thought, we never fought, and we hardly ever did
But as the passion died
I shriveled up inside
And now I don't think I can love you anymore.

I don't think I can love you anymore
Though I know when we started, we both swore
That we'd never leave the other, that we'd be there for one another
But now I don't think I can love you anymore.

Love's like a grape on the vine
It needs good sunshine
But even a world class wine
Can turn to vinegar that's bitter
And though I hate to be a quitter
I just don't think I can love you anymore.

I don't think I can love you anymore
It won't be long and I'll be heading out that door
I haven't met another, I don't need a better lover,
It's just I don't think I can love you anymore.
I don't think I can love you, although I'm sure I used to,
I don't think I can love you anymore.
