

I Like Girls

© 2011 Will Stanley

I keep trying to understand, what's important in life
Is it a world of gloom and doom, or sweetness and light
But every time I start to ponder, a vision pulls me away
And so I never find the answer, but I can say
I know what I like.

I like girls, the way that they move
I like girls, their skin is so smooth
I like girls, their voices sound like a summer breeze
I like girls, they sure know how to tease.

I like girls, their long wavy hair
I like girls, looking away when I stare
I like girls, the better half of the whole wide world
I like girls, and that is why I like girls.

You can slice it and dice it, but it stays the same
Though a lot of life makes sense, a lot is insane
Will it end in ice or fire, a whimper or bang
As I keep gazing out my window, the whole she gang
Makes me exclaim

I like girls, they're gentle and kind
I like girls, when guys act dumb they don't mind
I like girls, they give life a positive spin
I like girls, and it don't matter who wins.

I like girls, they love to relate
I like girls, they're lots of fun on a date
I like girls, they go crazy for diamonds and pearls
I like girls, and that is why I like girls.

Bridge: The time has come to admit I'm stumped
I don't know what life's all about
And lest you think that I'm in a slump
I've learned that there's one thing, makes me jump and shout.

Cuz I like girls, the way they sashay
I like girls, always something to say
I like girls, they believe in love not war
I like girls, they know what kissing is for.

I like girls, they love to relate
I like girls, lots of fun on a date
I like girls, they keep me guessing, keep my head in a whirl
I like girls, and that is why I like girls.
Yes, that's why I like girls.
I really like girls.