

I'll Take It From There

© 2011 Will Stanley

You seem angry, as angry as can be
And I get the feeling it's directed at me
You haven't specified exactly what I've done
But this sure isn't fun.

The look on your face says you're hoppin' mad
As I try to recollect doin' something real bad
Is there anything I can say or do
To convince you that it's not true.

I'd never cheat on you, I'm not that kind of guy
Believe me, I'm someone you can trust
I'll swear on Bibles stacked up to the sky
Or take a lie detector test.

And if that's not it, is it something that I bought
Or some anniversary I callously forgot
Can you just ignore it and pretend you don't care
And I'll take it from there.

Instrumental
I'll take it from there.

I'm not perfect, I'll admit I make mistakes
And this one got you good and upset
But my love's sincere, that's not something I could fake
And I'm hoping we'll work through this yet

Cuz life goes on, and rather than fight
Why not concentrate on all the things that go right
Conjure up all the good times we have shared
And I'll take it from there.

Instrumental
I'll take it from there
I'll take it from there
I'll take it from there.
