

Magical Thinking

© 2019 Will Stanley

You wish you could turn back time, you wish you could read my mind
But that's just Magical Thinking
You wish you hadn't begun, and done everything you done
But that's just Magical Thinking

You left me high and dry, and out in the cold
Wondering what the future holds
And now it seems I've got the upper hand
And you want to find out about, my future plans

But I ain't gonna show my cards, you'll have to trust the stars
And your Magical Thinking.

Instrumental

How could treat me with such disdain
And use me like your special toy
It didn't matter that I was in pain
I was dispensable, just a frightened little boy

But now things have come around, you've lost your hallowed ground
And your Magical Thinking

Instrumental 2

You hope I won't, tell them what you did
And that your life won't be destroyed
But you took my innocence and heaven forbid
I should recall how my pain brought you joy.

So now that I'm the boss, I'm gonna nail you to the cross
With your Magical Thinking
Yes you and your Magical Thinking
Your Magical Thinking.