

Melancholy Mood

© 2020 Will Stanley

Wake up I know that
I need my first cup
Start the brew and head out
Into the morning dew
Breathe in the air and realize
Life can be unfair
Try to enjoy the solitude

Birds sing, church bells ring
Sky is blue, I miss you
I'm in a melancholy mood.
Day starts with an aching heart
And a bad attitude, cuz I miss you
And I'm in a melancholy mood

Who would've thought that we would
Find ourselves caught
Living alone, and growing apart.
But we have stay strong and hope that
It won't be too long before we Give our romance a brand new start.

And the birds sing, and church bells ring
The sky's still blue, I'm missing you.
And I'm in a melancholy mood.
And the day ends as it began
I bid adieu to the evening hue
Still in a melancholy mood.

Bridge: FaceTime's not the face time, that I have come to crave
It makes me miss you more and more as I comfort with clichés

Instrumental

And birds don't sing, and bells don't ring
The sky's not blue, I still miss you.
And I'm in a melancholy mood.
And the night drags on, until the dawn
A sad interlude, I have to conclude
That I'm in a melancholy mood.
I'm in a melancholy mood.
Still in a melancholy mood.
