

Not A Moment Too Soon

© 2008 Will Stanley

Gold in my hand turned to clay, it was the Midas touch in reverse
Everything I improved, turned out worse.
When I decided to write a song, try as I might
When I was done, it sounded trite
    But then you appeared, and set my world right on its ear
    I saw that I could survive and even thrive without all that jive

You showed me that life, doesn't have to be hard
And when I'm with you, there's every reason to let down my guard
Cuz you put me at ease and dispel all the gloom.

You showed me that life, doesn't have to be sad
Just because I had lost, so many good things that I once had
Now that's all in the past, and I view the new moon and sing a happy tune
You rescued me, not a moment too soon

I wondered what I could do, and if I'd make it through Being down in the dumps was taking its toll
I must admit it crossed my mind, that I was on a deadline
One that jeopardized my very soul.
    But your gentle touch, showed I'd embraced the blues too much
    I found a brand new way to get away from all this disarray

You showed me that life, doesn't have to be hard
And when I'm with you, there's every reason to let down my guard
Cuz you put me at ease and dispel all the gloom.

You showed me that life, doesn't have to be sad
Just because I had lost, so many good things that I once had
Now that's all in the past, and I view the new moon and sing a happy tune
You rescued me, not a moment too soon

*I was afraid the end was near
As I watched all hope disappear
Then out of the blue you were there
And out the window went my despair.*

Cuz you showed me that life, doesn't have to be hard
And when I'm with you, I've got a reason to let down my guard
You put me at ease and dispel all the gloom.

You showed me that life, doesn't have to be sad
Just because I had lost, so many good things that I once had
Now that's all in the past, and I view the new moon and sing a happy tune
You rescued me, not a moment too soon