

I saw my name, in the local news rag
A so-called reporter, implied I was a dirtbag
He said my maid had no documents
But still she paid her taxes while I was exempt
He claimed every trick in the book
Was used to get me off the hook.

But everything I do (is perfectly legal), I dot my I's and cross my T's
No one can say, (he's being deceitful), so please don't call me a sleeze
I don't make the rules, I just try to use them to the Nth degree
And if that means I get a few more bucks, that's hunky dory with me.

How could he say that I'm a fat cat
Just because my congressman calls me to chat
It doesn't mean I've got more influence
Just because I'm more affluent
In democracy, equality
Isn't spread out equally.

And everything I do (is perfectly legal), I dot my I's and cross my T's
No one can say, (he's being deceitful), so please don't call me a sleeze
I don't make the rules, I just try to use them to the Nth degree
And if that means I get a few more beans, that's just dandy by me.

Everybody needs to give me a break
I ain't committed murder, arson or rape
My only offense is getting on top
Calling me a parasite, is just a cheap shot. .

Instrumental

I know it may be hard to accept
That I got where I am by being adept
At manipulating circumstance
Not making widgets, just finance

And everything I do (is perfectly legal), I dot my I's and cross my T's
No one can say, (he's done something illegal), so please don't call me a sleeze
I don't make the rules, I just try to use them advantageously
And if that means I get a few more dreams, that's fine with me..
And if that means I get a few more beans.....bully for me.
