

The Blame Game

© 2013 Will Stanley

Please don't tell me, that it's all my fault
That I was the one who went astray
You had your flings, as I recall
And my sense of betrayal hasn't gone away.

I know you blame me
And I know I blame you
But one thing we can't see
Neither one is true.

Those things that you said when it first came out
Hurt me to the quick and made me good and mad
So I shouted things I should have been ashamed to spout
That's how it goes when you feel you've been stabbed.

I know you hate me
And I know I hate you
But one thing we can't see
Neither one is true.

Looking at the sunlight playing on your hair
Reminds me of when we first met.
You were so stunning, I could only stare
It was a scene, I'll never forget.

Instrumental Chorus

Let's wave the white flag, let's call a draw
I think we've let things get out of control
No human being is without a flaw
Doing the best we can has to be the goal.

I know you love me
And I know I love you
But one thing I now see
Both of those are true.

I know you love me
And I know I love you
But one thing for sure I see
Both of those are true.
And I love you.
