

Until Love Goes Out Of Style

© 2004 Will Stanley

You've asked me if I mean it, when I say that we're forever
That our souls will be together, until the end of time
This couldn't be more heartfelt, if our lives depended on it
And they do, since they'll now be intertwined
There's no better time, to say what I must say
And there's no holding back, on this our wedding day
So I'll make you this one promise, as we're walking down that aisle
I will love you until love goes out of style
I will love you until love goes out of style

You never need to worry, that this flame will be extinguished
Cuz our love will be distinguished by a bond that never breaks
Two lovers on one life path, moving in the same direction
With the tenderness and affection love creates
Just look in my eyes, and I'll try to make you see
You're the one and only, girl in life for me
And I'll make you this one promise, as we're walking down the aisle
I will love you until love goes out of style
I will love you until love goes out of style

There'll be bumps in the road, but we'll be sharing the load
And that'll make it all right.
With you leaning on me, and me leaning on you
We'll work together hand in hand, and build us a life.

(Instrumental--verse)

Just look in my eyes, and I'll try to make you see
You're the one and only, girl in life for me
I will make you this one promise, as you look at me and smile
I will love you until love goes out of style
I will love you until love goes out of style
