

We'll Soon See (If This Is Meant To Be)

© 2015 Will Stanley

Since we have met, I've been walking on air
Head in the clouds, without a care
Hoping we'll continue to blot out the pain
And get us both beyond the shame and blame.

We've both been hurt, you and me
By someone who was fancy-free
And we'll soon see, if this was meant to be.

Time after time, you've shown me you're true
This is the real McCoy, between me and you
And now the time has come to make some plans
And we're both acting nervous as demands expand.

Cuz we've been hurt, both you and me
By another's loose philosophy
And we'll soon see, if this is meant to be.

Of course, we're feeling gun shy after all we've seen
But we have to plunge ahead to fulfill the dream.

Instrumental

They say tomorrow starts the rest of life
I'm thinking we might spend it, with you as my wife.

Yes, we've been hurt, you and me
And commitment makes us want to flee
But we've got to see, if this is meant to be.

Cuz we've been hurt, I agree
We were treated irresponsibly
But we've got to see, if this is meant to be.